Welcome to another year ... another fresh start, another grand opportunity to reach our goals, another chapter in this wonderful thing called LIFE!

2021 was quite a year, but it offered a glimpse of promise as things slowly ventured back to normal. While today's "normal" is quite different from yesterday's "normal", 2021 did allow for the ease of restrictions related to COVID. While the restrictions varied based on what country you resided, we saw an increase of gatherings, promo events, photo shoots, and other face-to-face networking.

We were fortunate, and grateful, to be able to release 12 issues of Flyrt Magazine in 2021! Our wonderful team never missed a month ... in fact, we were able to publish twice monthly in some cases, thanks to the plethora of submissions we received!

Another accomplishment was our ability to expand our global reach, which now includes networking with models and photographers in USA, UK, Canada, Italy, and Singapore.

Last, but not least, was the approach to our subscription-based model. Now, once you subscribe for one low price, you will gain access to our entire library of publications ... over 20 issues featuring the world's hottest glamour and nude models!

"My sexiest feature? I prefer the back and the bottom of the body (ass) ... "

I'm an Italian sexy star and I gladly entertain the public with my erotic shows around Italy, in the most famous Italian nightclubs. At the same time, I enjoy giving new shots to my fans. I also worked in the past as a model and image girl, and I participated in numerous beauty contests such as Miss Mondo, Miss International, Miss Pandemic-time ... bringing home various awards.

How long have you been modeling?

At the age of 8-years-old, modeled for little girls beach costume. My first calendar was made in bikini at the beach and sold at the age of 14-years-old, because I wasn't already much different from now.

Who or what inspired you to start modeling?

I don't know. I have not looked for this path, but it happened to me... life on several occasions has led me to meet people who have noticed me and seen potentials congenial to their projects. I am moody and my mood can often be seen from the various shoots in which I look like different people, I define myself as complex and chameleonic. I don't have a particular source of inspiration, I always do only what I like to do and makes me feel good at the same moment.

How would you describe your modeling style?

Sensual and feminine, I like glamour style.

What is your most memorable moment as a model?

When in 2011, I arrived as a finalist at the beauty contest Miss International. Also, when I appeared in magazines such as For Man, Playboy Italy, Interviú Spain.

What are your modeling goals, short-term and long-term?

Absolutely, I have other plans for my working life, but I would like to continue taking shots from time to time because I like it and have fun doing it.

What is your sexiest feature?

I prefer the back and the bottom of the body (ass). I don't find my face particularly photogenic, and I would like to improve my expressiveness to convey more the eroticism, that instead is part of my personality.

How to Take a Stress-Free Holiday Road Trip

Holiday travel can be stressful, but it should be fun, too. Advance planning and proper car care can take much of the stress out of a holiday road trip and leaving you free to enjoy the ride.

Checklists for each aspect of the trip will help ensure that nothing important is left behind, and that you are safe and prepared in case of an emergency. When it's time for a holiday road trip, keep these tips in mind for smooth travels:

Check your ride: A complete car check before a road trip should include making sure the fluid levels are sufficient. Make sure wiper blades and the wiper mechanism itself is working properly. Check your lights, including brights, to be sure they are functional. And, last but not least, don't forget your tires. Tires are the connection between your car and the road, so be sure to examine the tread for signs of excess wear.

"Traction and tread are inextricably linked. The grooves in your tires are critical in helping to channel water away to allow the tire to grip the road," says Sarah Robinson, Michelin safety expert. "Making sure you're driving on tires with proper tread can be the difference between avoiding an accident and becoming part of it."

Be prepared: Equip your car with an emergency kit, including water, flashlight, blanket, jumper cables, extra windshield wiper fluid, cell phone charger, and emergency phone numbers for roadside assistance, as well as a contact person at your destination.

Map your route: Check your route in advance and, if possible, plan your trip for times with less traffic. If you are planning to use a map feature on your phone, use the voice component; if you don't have that, consult a paper map and get a sense of the route before you get behind the wheel.

Safety first: That means the driver focuses on driving. If you are the driver and need to check your phone, send a message, have a snack, or tend to a child or pet in the back seat, wait for a rest stop, or if necessary, pull over to the side of the road.

Watch the weather: Especially during winter holidays, knowing the weather in advance can help you plan to avoid a storm. If conditions are truly dangerous, the smart move is to postpone your trip until the weather improves.

"My sexiest feature? I've often been told I have a great butt ..."

In 2010 I met the wonderful Rick Trottier who taught me so much about modeling. I have worked with many photographers, attended a few workshops, and also won the 2011 Miss Summer Nationals. Modeling is such a wonderful feeling ... not only do I feel like I can be myself, but it gives me so much confidence, self-love, and strength. Being beautiful and having a nice body isn't what makes a model. What makes a model is having pure passion to model and trusting the photographer's advice and direction on how to pose and position yourself to get the perfect photo. Having confidence in who you are is beautiful and showing your confidence is very captivating.

How long have you been modeling?

About 12 years.

Who or what inspired you to start modeling?

I've always loved fashion and admired famous models.

How would you describe your modeling style?

I am very diverse in my interests. My favorite tends to be sexy glamor and daring swimwear, but I also shoot fashion, fitness and lifestyle.

What is your most memorable moment as a model?

I have a number of memorable moments, but the most recent that I enjoyed would be the sunrise shoot at the beach. Being up early is never my cup of tea, however shooting while the sun is rising and hearing nothing but the ocean is absolutely breathtaking. It was an amazing shoot I did with Rick Trottier for Sunny swimwear.

What are your modeling goals, short-term and long-term?

Continuing to build and expand my portfolio, and working towards more features and paid work is my goal.

What is your sexiest feature?

I've often been told I have a great butt and I'm sure people are going to like seeing it in the implied nudes I've shot with Rick.

6 Tips: How to stay active at home

(NewsUSA) In the past weeks, it has become clear that social distancing and quarantining are the new normal. This is an overwhelming time as we attempt to adjust our mindsets and schedules – between working from home, watching after the kids, keeping up with the news, and maintaining sanity, it can be a challenge to prioritize your physical and mental health.

Here are some tips on how to stay active in these strange and unprecedented times.

Make a plan. It's always easier to commit to a healthy habit if you make it part of your routine. At the beginning of each week, take a look at your schedule and find those windows where you could realistically squeeze in a workout. Set a reminder on your phone or even add the workout to your calendar to keep yourself accountable.

Try a meal delivery service. It may be difficult to cook healthy meals every day, especially if you can't get what you need from the grocery store. Having healthy food delivered safely to your door can alleviate the stress and hassle of cooking, plus having healthy options in the house will keep you from overeating and reaching for junk food. South Beach Diet, for example, offers fully nutritionally balanced, prepared meals and snacks that make it easy to keep your diet on track.

Take breaks from work. It can be tempting to sit around all day while you're working from home, but don't let yourself stay sedentary for too long. Get away from your workspace and move around every hour or so to get your blood flowing. This will help you to stay sharp and healthy during social isolation. If you're taking a phone call, stand up and allow yourself to pace around. Try to get up every hour and take a few steps around the house, stretch, or even do a few jumping jacks.

Stream, stream, stream. As gyms and workout studios are necessarily closed for the moment, many fitness brands and instructors are using Instagram live to hold virtual classes. If you have a favorite local studio or a favorite instructor, check out their website or social media to see if they are hosting any online classes. Many fitness brands are also offering extended free trials to access their libraries of workout videos.

Go for a walk or run. Of course, we are all limiting our trips outside to the grocery store, gas station, or anywhere else we might come in close contact with others. But if you are able to safely run or walk while keeping distance from your neighbors, those are great options for staying active, clearing your mind, and getting some fresh air.

"It's so important to find those moments of joy outdoors while we're all social distancing," says Jessie James Decker, mother of three and South Beach Diet brand ambassador. "Whatever that means for you – whether it's a stroll around the neighborhood with the kids or a long run to clear your head – you'll feel so much better if you make the time for it."

Keep your mind active. Just as our bodies need physical activity to stay healthy, our minds need stimulation (beyond reality TV binge sessions) to stay sharp as well. Group activities such as board games or puzzles are a great option for keeping your mind sharp while clocking some quality time with your family or roommates.
